|----------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Duration       | 17 weeks · 4 phases · Apr 20 – Aug 16, 2026                                                  |
| Morning window | 5:00–6:00 AM (60 minutes hard stop)                                                          |
| Weekly split   | Mon Lower A · Tue Upper A · Wed Race/Run · Thu Rest · Fri Upper B · Sat Trail Run · Sun Rest |
| A-Races        | Cirque Alta — July 11 · Cirque Snowbird — August 15                                          |
| Weekly Series  | Wednesdays April–August (~4–6 mi, ~1,500 ft)                                                 |
| Equipment      | Barbell, squat rack, bench, DBs, KBs, GHD — no cable machine                                 |
| Key principle  | ONE lower body lifting day per week — racing + trail running provide additional leg stimulus |

Phase 1 Rules

- Tuesday always easy — legs fresh for Wednesday race
- Build loads conservatively — you have the whole summer
- Eat before every 5 AM session
- Pelvic floor: if pressure, leaking, or pain — stop and regress

PHASE 2

Build + Race Sharp

Weeks 5–9 · May 18 – Jun 21

Progressive overload · Power elements · Cirque prep begins

Cirque Alta Race Notes

- Feed or pump before race start. Electrolytes from mile 1.
- Start fueling at 35–40 min. 30–45g carbs/hour.
- Post-race: eat and hydrate aggressively 24 hrs — milk supply may dip.

PHASE 4

Phase 4 Notes

- Week 13 is full recovery — don't turn it into a training week
- Second peak builds faster — your body remembers Cirque Alta
- Same taper rules as Phase 3: keep intensity, cut volume 30%

PROGRESSION RULES

How to Load, Progress, and Protect

| RULE                   | DETAIL                                                                       |
|------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Add weight when        | All reps done with 2 reps still in tank (RPE 8 or less)                      |
| Never sacrifice form   | Especially RDL, split squat, front squat. Form > load always.                |
| Luteal phase           | Keep same load. Drop 1 set if needed. No new PRs.                            |
| Deload weeks           | Wks 4, 11 — reduce volume 40%, keep load. Adaptation happens here.           |
| Taper weeks            | Wks 11, 17 — reduce volume 30%, keep intensity.                              |
| Tuesday rule           | Always easy before Wednesday races. No lower body day before race.           |
| 60-min window          | Get in, work hard, get out. No extras to make up missed work.                |
| Pelvic floor           | Pressure, leaking, or pain on any lift — stop and regress.                   |
| Overreaching signs     | Fatigue, mood shifts, milk supply drop, disrupted sleep = back off           |
| Breastfeeding red line | Never below 2,000 kcal/day. Supply drops — eat more first.                   |
| One lower day rule     | Mon Lower A is your only lower lifting day. Racing + trail = extra leg work. |
